Dr. Meredith Esposito believes people ought to look forward to going to the dentist. Sound impossible? Just ask her patients. "Dr. Esposito and her staff instantly made me feel at ease," said one gentleman. With just one doctor and a small staff, the practice strives for a personalized, intimate environment where customer service reigns supreme. She is known for getting even the most apprehensive patient to relax in her chair.

Dr. Meredith Esposito opened the doors to her own dental office, in Arnold, Maryland, on June 1, 2008. As a mother, and wife, she brings the patience and compassion necessary to deal with the challenging needs of your entire family. She brings her past experience in both cosmetic and pediatric dentistry to mold what she thinks is the ideal family practice. "The best part of dentistry is the relationships you get to build with your patients over the years. You watch their kids grow up," says Dr. Esposito who has a two year-old.

She has completed several hundred hours of advanced education on cosmetic dentistry, dental implants, and temporomandibular joint (TMJ) issues through such places as the Dawson Institute for Advanced Dentistry in Tampa, Florida and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentists. Her yearlong residency at the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania allowed her to work with some of the top implantologists in the country. Dr. Esposito graduated from Temple University School of Dentistry in 2001. She moved to Annapolis in 2002 and has practiced locally ever since.
